The Insured's business description will determine what questions are asked about the vehicle's usage and is the first step in an accurate quote. Make sure to select the business description that best describes the insured's primary operation from the drop-down list, and don't be afraid to call with questions about your unique accounts.

Does your customer have a USDOT #?

 Yes No Not yet

A DOT number will give us important information about the risk being rated and help fill in some of the data in Breeze such as business name and address to speed up the quoting process.

How many liability claims has your customer had in the past 3 years? ?

Loss runs may be required after bind.

The number of liability losses in the past 3 years will be verified by the underwriting team after a policy binds. Loss runs may be required, and the premium can be adjusted if the losses reported are not accurate.

- 2015 CHEVROLET SUBURBAN - 33961
- 2015 HONDA PILOT - 13527

Breeze can speed up the quoting process by suggesting units that were recently used under the insured's authority or registered at their business address. Making sure to add all of these suggested units or having documentation on why the vehicles are not included (such as bills of sale or lease terminations) will avoid requiring the unit(s) to be added to the policy after binding.

What is the body type of this vehicle?

Suggested	Truck	Car/Pickup/SUV	Large Passenger	Specialty - Other	Trailer	All

Picking the correct body type will ensure accurate pricing on the quote. Options shown are the most common for the business type selected. If you do not see the body type for the vehicle being rated you may need to search past the suggested types.
